Step 2: Go to sub-forum and make a post

Click "Destinations" on vertical nav bar to uncollapse the menu, click the continent name to go to the corresponding sub-forum.

The screenshot shows a sub-forum titled "Europe". At the top, there is a button labeled "+ Make a post" which is circled in red. Below this, there is a list of articles:

- Samaria Gorge, Greece
Emma
- Enjoy an artful life, Italy
Mango
- Eiffel Tower, France
Alice
- Red Square, Russian Federation
Alice

After entering the sub-forum, you will see the article list. You can click “Make a post” button to share your travelling memory and tips.

A modal window titled "Make a post" is shown. It contains the following fields:

- Title: An input field.
- Country: A dropdown menu set to "Afghanistan".
- Content: A large text area for writing the post.

At the bottom right are two buttons: "Cancel" and "Submit".

A text area will appear, choose a country, fill in title and content to submit a post. All fields are required. You can clear your inputs and hide the area by clicking “cancel”.

Enjoy an artful life

Pity the day trippers dropped off at San Marco with a mere three hours to take in Venice. That's about enough time for one long gasp at the show-stopper that is Piazza San Marco, but not nearly enough time to see what else Venice is hiding. Stay longer in this fairy-tale city and you'll discover the pleasures of la bea vita (the beautiful life) that only locals know: the wake-up call of the gondoliers' 'Oooeeeeee!', a morning spritz in a sunny campo (square), lunch in a crowded bacaro (bar) with friends and fuchsia-pink sunsets that have sent centuries of artists mad.
